Schedule F, Part I, Line 2 - ICC takes seriously the responsibility that it has for monitoring the use of funds it grants to charitable entities in other countries. The following procedures are in place to ensure the funds are used properly. 1)Prior to funds being transferred, ICC will ensure the receiving entity is aware of: a)the nature of the donation and what the funds are to be used for, b)any expected procedures and/or reporting requirements for that particular donation. 2)Once the funds have been transferred to a project outside the US, ICC board members may make on-site visits to the project. Though these visits may not be possible in every case, ICC will endeavor to make as many on-site visits as possible and necessary. This ensures accountability and that things are operating according to accepted procedures. During such visits, project administration will be expected to produce financial reports, receipts, and other financial information for inspection at the request of the ICC representative. The project administration must be available to review the records with the ICC representative and provide expense justification. 3)Any international project receiving ICC funds will need to prepare and submit a financial report that contains information that included funds received from ICC. These reports are to be sent to the ICC treasurer for review. 4)Should there be any discrepancies or concerns with a project's use of funds, a representative selected by the board of ICC will work with the project to correct the problem as quickly as possible and ensure compliance with the directives of ICC. 5)If there is evidence that funds were used improperly by a particular project, ICC will conduct an investigation prior to any further funds being sent in support of that project.

Form 990, Part VI, Section A, Line 2 - President Richard Fleck is son of board member and founder Alcyon Fleck; is husband of Children's Services Director Sharon Fleck; is brother-in-law of Finance Director Karen Wecker.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b - Once the 990 is completed, it is circulated to three board members of ICC including at least two officers. If any board member feels changes are needed, this is brought to the attention of the other members who are reviewing the document. Once the three board members agree that the document is acceptable, it is finalized with official signatures.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - In the Fall of 2002, ICC administration conducted an analysis of compensation for employees within the organization. Sources used in the study included 1)US Department of Labor National Compensation Survey: Occupation Wages in the Pacific Census Division, January 2001 for the organizations; 2)Compensation in Nonprofit Organizations, 15th Edition 2002 by Abbott Langer & Associates; 3)North Pacific Union of Seventh-day Adventists. Current wages of each employee, including the CEO and directors, were compared to wage categories using these three sources. An industry standard for each category was determined using the "Compensation in Nonprofit Organizations" source. In order to find an industry standard wage for each category, a weighted average was used for the following factors in the survey when comparing ICC to other companies; 20% overall mean, 10% number of employees, 25% type of organization (social services), 10% annual budget, 15% number of employee supervised, 20% scope (international). Once the industry standard wage was determined for each category of worker, the other two sources of information (Dept. of Labor, and North Pacific Union Conference) were consulted to make sure this industry standard was reasonable. The industry standard wage scale that was determined helped form the basis for creating a compensation plan for ICC employees. COMPENSATION PLAN: Each position at ICC is given a base rate of pay. This is based on the industry standard. The employees wage is then calculated based on the number of years worked at ICC; managers start at 80% of the base rate and increases 2% each year; Non-managers start at 90% of the base rate and increases 2% each year. The increase is somewhat flexible and may depend upon subjective factors, including job performance and supervisor recommendations. The Board of Directors for ICC has delegated the issue of employee compensation to the Executive Committee of the board. The Executive Committee met on Dec. 19, 2002 and discussed the findings concerning compensation and the recommended plan. The Executive Board approved the compensation plan and voted to raise managers to industry standard levels in four increments every six months, starting Jan. 2003, and to raise the others to industry standards in Jan. 2003. NOTE: At the April 2007 and May 2008 Executive Committee meetings it was voted and approved to give a 2% cost of living increase retroactive to Jan. 1 of each of those years. This note is to show that the compensation process is addressed annually.

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19 - We do not have a policy to allow the public direct access to these documents. However, since the financial statements are considered public records, we do send a copy to those who might request one. Other documents that are requested (ex. governing documents, conflict of interest policy) may be provided on a case by case basis.
